Annotated Bibliography

- provides an discussion and analysis of disability policy in select European jurisdictions, including a description of the general approach, benefit levels, rehabilitation incentives and economic cost-benefit considerations.

- a summary guide or overview of the Australian system, including philosophy, coverage, organization, process for making a claim and entitlements.

- an overview of developments and key legislative changes in workers’ compensation laws in 1995 in Canadian and American jurisdictions.

- a compendium of facts and statistics on U.S. and Canadian member jurisdictions.

Association of Workers’ Compensation Boards of Canada, Comparison of Workers’ Compensation Legislation in Canada, 1995

- a descriptive overview of the legislative framework for workers’ compensation in all Canadian jurisdictions.

Association of Workers’ Compensation Boards of Canada, Benefit Comparisons, 1996

- a descriptive overview and summary of the compensation benefits provided by the Canadian jurisdictions.

Association of Workers’ Compensation Boards of Canada, Compensating for Occupational Disease in Canada 1995/96

- a description and discussion of the methods and types of coverage for occupational diseases in Canadian jurisdictions.
Comparative Review of Workers’ Compensation Systems

- an outline of the industry classifications and the assessment rates in each jurisdiction and a description of experience rating programs in Canadian jurisdictions.

Ballantyne, Duncan and James F. Dunleavy, Workers’ Compensation in Oregon: Administrative Inventory, Workers’ Compensation Research Institute, December 1995.

- a historical overview of the development of workers’ compensation and a discussion of the system today, including how it interrelates to other social programs, and a discussion of some emerging policy directions and issues.

- a description of the social policy respecting the integration of disabled person into work and other environments, including the rights of disabled person and the responsibilities of employers and laws, regulations and rules respecting polices toward disabled people.

- a legal overview of the Australian workers’ compensation systems [dated].

- an overview of Canadian workers’ compensation systems, their development, current structure and economic and cost-benefit analysis.

- an overview of Canadian workers’ compensation systems, their development, current structure and economic and cost-benefit analysis.

- a review of workers’ compensation in the U.S. and Canada prepared for the State of Victoria, Australia, focusing on financial arrangements, but also reviewing statutes and administration. The study proposes some performance criteria and concludes that the model chosen has little bearing on performance.
Comparative Review of Workers’ Compensation Systems

Dye, Kenneth, M., Notes - Visit to Germany, May 31 to June 4, 1993.
- informal notes from Dye’s meetings with various representatives of German workers’ compensation and occupational health and safety organizations.

Eccleston, Stacey M., Managed Care and Medical Cost Containment in Workers’ Compensation, A National Inventory, 1995/96, Workers Compensation Research Institute, December 1995.

- a practical description and guide to the New Zealand accident compensation legislation and system.

Gallie, Karen, Highlights from the International Congress on Occupational Health in Sweden, Presentation to Medical Rounds, Workers’ Compensation Board of British Columbia, November 21, 1996.
- a cassette tape of a presentation given at “medical rounds”of the WCB of BC outlining the Swedish workers’ compensation system, particularly its emphasis on prevention, health and safety and rehabilitation.

- an administrative inventory providing a descriptive analysis of the effect of Oregon’s cost containment reforms.

- notes from a presentation given at “medical rounds”of the WCB of BC describing the New Zealand accident compensation system, including highlighting recent changes to the scheme to emphasize prevention, health and safety and rehabilitation.

- a paper prepared by the Heads of Australia’s workers’ compensation authorities proposing and discussing comprehensive “best practice” principles and standards to promote high quality, effective and consistent practices across all Australian workers’ compensation systems.
Comparative Review of Workers' Compensation Systems

- A publication produced on a bi-annual basis summarizing in succinct matrix format select attributes and information on the workers’ compensation systems in all Australian jurisdictions. Issues covered include: weekly benefit rates, lump-sum payments, death benefits; claim and assessment rates; access to common law and thresholds; medical aid and information on dispute resolution processes.

Hicks, F.H., Notes on Centres of Occupational Health and Safety in Austria, West Germany, Switzerland, Sweden, Finland and Poland, 1978.
- Formal notes from Hicks tour of several European jurisdictions respecting their occupational health and safety legislation and systems.

- Provides an overview of the Act and a discussion of the legislation from the viewpoint of employers, employees and society.

- A publication discussing how the work environment affects a person’s overall psychological, emotional and physical well-being and the bio-psycho-social model and its interrelationship with a person’s work life.

- A research work assessing the impact of occupational rehabilitation programs and efforts in NSW from the point of view of workers and employers, including identifying the barriers to successful rehabilitation.

- A review of U.S. workers’ compensation systems for a legal perspective, updated quarterly, with overviews on exposure, coverage and claims as well as summaries of the provisions of each state.

- A paper on the Victoria, Australia workers’ compensation system and aspects of the system that
Comparative Review of Workers' Compensation Systems

- discusses the fundamental elements that make the work place safe, healthy and effective in the broadest sense to meet the physical, psychological and social needs of workers.

- a survey and analysis of the performance measures and classifications and experience rating systems used by the Canadian jurisdictions, including the identification of blockers to effective performance measurement.

- a discussion paper outlining the basis for reforms to the accident rehabilitation and compensation legislation in New Zealand.

- a statement from the Minister outlining the principles underlying the reform of the Ontario workers' compensation legislation.

- an discussion of the existing state occupational health and safety programs and analysis of the proposed Comprehensive Occupational Safety and Health Reform Act including the ways the new Act will close gaps in existing legislation and programs.

- an overview of the European workers’ compensation system, focusing on changes to the Belgian system that build on the systems of other European states with their no fault system and emphasis on health and safety and preventing losses.

- an essay examining the “swedish model” to safety -- the cooperation of employees and employers to solve labour market problems on the basis of shared interests -- its origins and comparison to other jurisdictions.
Comparative Review of Workers’ Compensation Systems

-an overview of a book based on a series of presentations given by researchers and practitioners at a May 1993 conference on Canadian workers’ compensation issues.

-a high level discussion and analysis of the workers’ compensation reforms undertaken in a number of jurisdictions over the last several years. Systems summarized include jurisdictions such as Japan, Australia, Germany, France, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, New Zealand and Switzerland and the United States. The systems are categorized and reform movements and specific reforms are discussed and analyzed by type.

-a brief synopsis and comparative summary of select provisions in workers’ compensation statutes for all U.S. states and Canadian jurisdictions. Topics covered include: scope or coverage of laws, benefits provided, and administration of laws.

-A detailed description of the organization and administrative structure of each state workers’ compensation program, including an outline of the state’s organizational structure, the agencies responsible and their functions, budget and financing of operations, other or special funds, insurance requirements (including self-insurance requirements) reporting requirements, claims processing and monitoring, dispute resolution process, medical care, evaluation and rehabilitation, public information and assistance, and management information systems.

-a book examining and discussion the workers’ compensation systems throughout the world, including a more detailed review of several, select international jurisdictions.

Williams, Blake (Director, Workers’ Advisors Office, B.C. Ministry of Skills, Training and Labour) and Wolfgang Zimmerman (Executive Director, National Institute of Disability Management and Research), A Report on the 1994 German Study Tour and the “World at Work” Presentation at the Sixth European Regional Conference of Rehabilitation International, December 1994.

-a binder summarizing visits and meetings with officials of various German agencies responsible for workers’ compensation and workplace health and safety in Germany. Also a summary and extracts of presentations given at the “World at Work” presentation.
Comparative Review of Workers' Compensation Systems

- prepared by the Board for the Royal Commission an overview of the development of workers’ compensation and the historical development of the British Columbia system, including a discussion of the board’s current operational structure.

- a book outlining the programs and initiatives being currently undertaken by the European Community to coordinate and standardize occupational health and safety across the nations in the EC.

Internet Addresses:

Australia - http://www.nla.gov.au - general information on the Australian government, including links to a very concise reference to Comcare and the Occupational Health and Safety Commission and links to all state government web sites http://www.abs.gov.au - the website of Australian Bureau of Statistics, containing on-line summary statistical information on Australia and all states http://www.workcover.nsw.gov.au - the website for WorkCover NSW, containing detailed on-line information on the WorkCover NSW scheme, including pamphlets and information for workers and employers on the scheme in general, rehabilitation, health and safety and rate setting. Also provides access to the 1994/95 Statistical Bulletin, through PDF document access http://www.qld.gov.au - the website for the government of Queensland and through the Department of Training and Industrial Relations, access to on-line information on the Workers’ Compensation Board of Queensland.

Germany - http://www.bundesregierung.de/ausland/qe.html - general information on Germany; the economy, the people, the government
http://www.statistik-bund.de/allg - statistical information on Germany

http://www.enigma.co.nz - Web site for a “Managed Care” conference, including presentation by CEO of the ACC on “ACC - An Outcome Driven http://www.stats.govt.nz - statistics and information on New Zealand

01/12/98 Bibliography - page 7
Comparative Review of Workers’ Compensation Systems

U.S.A.
http://www.osha.gov - website for the United States Department of Labor, Occupational Safety and Health Administration
http://www.saif.com - website for the Oregon SAIF Corporation
http://www.cbs.state.or.us/external/osha - website the Oregon OSHA http://www.cbs.state.or.us/external/wcd - website of the Oregon Department of Consumer and Business Services, Workers’ Compensation Division http://www.txfund.com - website for the Texas Workers’ Compensation Insurance Fund
http://www.wa.gov/ini - website of the Washington State Department of Labour and Industries, including the Workers’ Compensation Division and the Consultation and Compliance Services Division (OHS)
http://www.wa.gov/ini/sharp - website for SHARP (Safety and Health Assessment and Research for Prevention) program

Canada
http://www.wcb.bc.ca - website for the British Columbia WCB
http://www.gov.ab.ca/~lab/ohs - website for Alberta Labour http://www.gov.nb.ca/wshcc - website for Workplace Health, Safety and Compensation Commission of New Brunswick http://www.wcc.nf.ca - website of the Workers’ Compensation Commission of Newfoundland and Labrador http://www.pixelmotion.ns.ca - website of the WCB of Nova Scotia
http://www.wcb.on.ca/wcb - website of the Ontario WCB
http://www.wcat.on.ca - website of the Ontario Workers’ Compensation Appeals Tribunal http://csst.qe.ca - website of the Quebec workers’ compensation agency